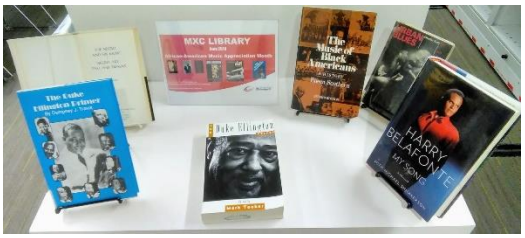
The current Library exhibit celebrates African-American Music Appreciation Month. The picture at the right is the book display. Celebrate by listening to the music of some of the great musicians of the 20th century, Duke Ellington, Nat King Cole, Louis Armstrong, Ella Fitzgerald, Sammy Davis, Jr., Harry Bellefontaine, Mary J. Blige, and Michael Jackson.



It has been thirty years since the passing of commediene and actress Lucille Ball. The National Comedy Center announced on April 26 plans to digitize materials from the archives of the Lucille Ball Desi Arnaz Museum. The Center and Musuem are in Jamestown, New York. The archives include behind-the-scenes production papers, rare family and studio photographs, handwritten notes, letters and telegrams from notable figures, and other documents. Many items have never been exhibited publically.

Featured Database of the Month

EBSCO eBook Collection – This e-book collection supplements our print collections and allows us to offer thousands of books that would not fit on our shelves. The EBSCO collection with more than148,651 e-books covers all academic disciplines. All the titles may be searched with the Library catalog using the “Everything” tab. They will not be found with the “In the library” tab. Reading books in PDF or EPUB formats is convenient because you do not have to search the shelves and books can be read from any computer with Internet access. Not all browsers work equally well for reading online. For the user guide click here. For direct search click here for the EBSCO search page. Searching may be done by author, title, subject or key word. Do not hesitate to ask a librarian to help you find e-books.
