What’s the best thing about being a College Advisor: I enjoy being an advisor because I appreciate the chance to help students connect to their goals, resources, internships and other opportunities that can keep them on their personal road to academic, career or self-defined success. I feel so full seeing students reach their goals despite adversity and then using what they experienced to assist others. It is one of the most rewarding aspects of the role.

Advice: I encourage students to tap into their resources early and often. It can be intimidating to request assistance. Yet, those who are most “successful” understand there’s strength in asking for help (before problems arise), as well as building their network and utilizing the tools that are accessible to them. Advisors are part of your toolkit and network for success here at Harold Washington College. Please do not hesitate to contact us.
