

Ainka Clepper

B.A. in Communication Studies from University of Massachusetts at Amherst

M.A. in Communication, Media, & Theater from Northeastern Illinois University

Doctoral Student in Communication & New Media Technology from University of Illinois at Chicago

What's the best thing about being a College Advisor: Advising session conversations help students imagine what was previously misconceived as the unimaginable. I feel blessed to be instrumental in such critical conversations.

Advice: When you need help, ask immediately. Addressing issues in advance places you in a most favorable position to secure the help you need to be successful.