What's the best thing about being a College Advisor: The best thing about being a college advisor is making sure students are equipped with the information and resources that can be used to reach their goals. I enjoy sharing my undergraduate experience with students and sharing information that would have helped me reach my goals without being overwhelmed.

Advice: Never doubt yourself, give in or give up! Be sure to utilize all of the resources that are available to you, get involved and network. Remember, it's not always what you know or who you know, but who knows you. The best is yet to come!
