

Martha Silva

B.A. in Business Administration from Governors State University
M.P.A. in Master of Public Administration from Governors State University

What's the best thing about being a College Advisor: My Passion is to help students become successful, and to help them recognize their own potential to achieve their academic and career goals. In the center of this process lies advising students on college resources, counseling them on available career paths and motivating them through encouragement and enthusiasm as they take a step into the academic world.

Advice: The best advice I can give to students is to "Never Give Up". Many student face different challenges in life to obtain a degree. However, it is important to overcome those challenges and to continue with the pathway and obtain that degree. In order to be successful, you must work hard towards those academic and career goals you want to achieve. "Your education, no one will take it away from you." As a first generation student, I did not have all the guidance I needed at the time. Having a College Advisor to provide the necessary information and getting me involved in clubs and organizations helped me to become a successful student.