Associate Dean of Student Services - Linda Huertas

Linda Huertas is an alumna of Wright College and has over twenty-five years of experience in the areas of marketing support, human resources, and student services. For thirteen years she was employed at IBM Corporation where she held a variety of positions in marketing support and human resources. She excelled in her roles and received three IBM Means Service awards for her outstanding work. This is where Ms. Huertas developed a passion for working with college students transitioning to the workforce.

Realizing the need to diversify the workforce, Ms. Huertas embarked on a career change and began her journey in higher education by joining City Colleges of Chicago - Wilbur Wright College. At Wright College, she has held various positions that have allowed her to engage with a diverse student body, including first-generation college students. She currently serves as Associate Dean of Student Services and is responsible for the areas of admissions and recruitment, testing, disability access services, and Veterans services. Ms. Huertas knows first-hand the difference that a successful community college experience can make for the thousands of students who attend the City Colleges of Chicago – Wright College. She is committed to working collaboratively across divisions to enhance the student experience and foster student success.

Ms. Huertas' educational background includes an Associate in Arts from Wilbur Wright College, a Bachelor of Arts in Business Administration from DePaul University and a Master of Arts in Higher Education Administration, with a concentration in community colleges, from Northeastern Illinois University.
