Spring 2012 Encore Discussion Series:
Positive Aging as an Option to the Challenges Presented in the Encore Years and Beyond

Whether your interest is personal, family or career focused, Harold Washington College’s Continuing Education Program offers a series of discussions on topics relevant to knowledge of the Encore Years (50+) and beyond? Although the focus is on the Encore Years, the following discussion groups are open to anyone who is interested in the topic, and discovering current research, debunking myths about aging, and enjoying lively discussions. Each session is 2½ hours or a total of 7½ hours. You may enroll in all three of the following sessions or select from among the options:
Each session will include the discussants pondering the included questions:

The Social Aspect of Working after Retirement

What if I chose not to work; will I dry up “like a raisin in the sun?” To what extent might working enhance my overall sense of well-being? How do I use all that I have—the social, cultural, physical, intellectual, and financial aspects and social networking to engage in positive aging?

Instructor: Dr. Sammie Dortch

To Work or Not to Work?—That is the Question

What is the relationship between meaning and purpose and work in the Encore Years? Is the work likely to fulfill something other than a financial need? If I have physical limitations that result in it taking me longer to complete assigned tasks, will this reality prevent me from being useful in the work environment? How do I assess my gifts, talents, and skills? How do I determine strategies for presenting myself in an interview that highlights the value I might add to a work environment?

Step One: Community College Teaching and Learning
As Read about in the New York Times! Three Sessions Offered This Spring and Summer!

For participants with a Master’s degree or better.

This course is an introductory survey to college teaching. The focus is on the application of student-centered active learning and the use of educational technology tools. The course is taught by a veteran City Colleges of Chicago teacher as well as many guest instructors who share their particular expertise.

Basic computer skills are required to succeed in this course. These include being adept at word processing, file management, and surfing the web.

In The Courage to Teach, Parker Palmer introduces his readers to the subject of college teaching as follows:

- “The question we most commonly ask [about college teaching] is the ‘what’ question—what subjects shall we teach?
- When the conversation goes a bit deeper, we ask the ‘how’ question—what methods and techniques are required to teach well?
- Occasionally, when it goes deeper still, we ask the ‘why’ question—for what purpose and to what ends do we teach?
- But seldom, if ever, do we ask the ‘who’ question—who is the self that teaches? How does the quality of my selfhood form—or deform—the way I relate to my students, my subject, my colleagues, and my world? How can educational institutions sustain and deepen the selfhood from which good teaching comes?” (1998, p. 4)

We will explore “the selfhood from which good teaching comes,” but we will also try to sharpen our active learning/teaching skills, use assessment to monitor classroom learning, familiarize ourselves with educational technology to improve delivery, and begin to learn how to develop quality courses and syllabi that support them.

The Art of Rainmaking: Career Portfolio Development

It’s never too late to create and maximize your own multiple streams of income through personally fulfilling and dignified work.

Ready to... Crystallize your life’s work vision? Advance your employability through a portfolio of marketable proficiencies? Launch your own innovative commercial enterprise?

This never-before-seen, one-of-a-kind, hands-on workshop will introduce and explore in lively and interactive fashion the principles and real-world application of Portfolio Career Employment: creating and maximizing your own multiple streams of income through personally fulfilling and dignified work. All-walks-of-life job seekers, the career polished, and the over 50 can expect to explore in this 4 session soulful “chat” how to discover and implement strategies for generating income via diversified employment channels. This program particularly appeals to that “entrepreneur” in each of us.

Abandon inhibition and doubt at the door. Your odyssey to discover career wonderment is honored here. Bring your imagination. Be prepared to leave with a sense of “what’s next for me.” Today, more than ever, the Uncommon has been summoned to the employment strategy whiteboard; all options for a truly rewarding and productive career plan are now in play.

Participants in this program are likely to fully appreciate Portfolio Career Employment as expressed through self-styled, independent contractorship conjoined with any combination of … at-will, W2 employment (full or part time); contract employment (independent or staff); internships; presently owned business assets or ventures; and savvy volunteerism … as co-equal expressions of a life's work vision rich with opportunity and sustainability.

Session One - Introduction to An Uncommon Way Forward. Explore the importance of Telling Your Story, Assuring Your Legacy, and Achieving Career Excellence in your life's work. Do I have a vision for what my own career excellence should look like? Is uncertainty to be expected? Can I work at my own pace and still be successful? How do I get started? (2 Hours)

Session Two - Share Your Life's Work Vision. Understand the Principles of Portfolio Career Employment. What is a Portfolio Career Enterprise? What work do you like to do? What work do you do well? How do you feel about collaborating with others on projects? Explore how diversifying one's employment is quickly becoming an inevitable approach many will practice in this economic environment. (2 Hours)

Session Three - If I choose the independent contractor employment path: What are the business management issues I will likely face? How do I market product services and programs? How do I network effectively? How will I know if I am being productive? (2 Hours)

Session Four - Share Your Portfolio Career Enterprise - In Principle. What are my next steps for making my journey into the world of portfolio career employment a reality? Your odyssey begins now! (2 Hours)

You Can Grow Orchids at Home!

(1 Day) Learn how to grow orchids on your windowsills. Find the general requirements for growing orchids indoors. Has a friend given you an orchid or have you bought an orchid at the grocery store and then don’t know what to do with it when the flowers die? You can get it to bloom again and again if you have a basic understanding about orchid care. This one day class will provide you with all the information you need to keep that orchid healthy and blooming. The class will stress growing Phalaenopsis (the easiest and most available orchid), and other easy-to-grow orchids will be discussed.

Exercise: You can bring your orchid(s) to class for tips on better growing and to analyze problems. In addition, the instructor will demonstrate how to and help you re-pot your orchid.

Easy Houseplants!

(3 Weeks) Learn basic houseplant care plus learn about a dozen of the easiest houseplants to grow.

Week #1 - Learn how to choose the right houseplants for your indoor environment and the basic light, temperature, soil, watering and fertilizing requirements for houseplants in general.

Lab Exercise: Troubleshoot your houseplant problems. Bring in one or two of your unhealthy or poorly growing plants for analysis and “cure” recommendations.

Week #2 - Learn about twelve easy to grow houseplants for any home conditions. The specific conditions necessary for the best growth of each plant will be discussed. If you have other plants to recommend, we can discuss those too.

Lab Exercise: Propagate your houseplants easily at home. You can have more of your favorite houseplants for yourself or for your friends. In this hands-on exercise, we will propagate some of your plants and/or some plants provided by the instructor.

Week #3 - Learn to care for seasonal and gift plants. Have you gotten an orchid and don’t know how to get it to bloom again? What do you do with that poinsettia after the holidays? We will discuss the long term care (especially re-blooming) of the many plants we get as gifts or purchase for seasonal color and flower.

Lab Exercise: Repotting houseplants - when to do it and how to do it. You can bring some of your own plants to class and the instructor will provide additional plants and supplies for practice.

Front Yard Farming!

(5 Weeks) With the interest today in fresh home grown food and the rising cost of fresh food, why let your front yard go to waste? You can grow vegetables, herbs and even fruit right in your own front yard, and it can look nice too! With a few simple techniques, you can have an attractive yard and fresh vegetables, herbs and fruit to eat too.

Week #1 - Choose the right vegetables and herbs for a front yard garden. Start plants indoors and buying plants for transplanting. Learn how to lay out the garden for maximum growing space. Learn to analyze and prepare your soil.

Lab Exercise - You can bring in photographs of your front yard for recommendations from the instructor and other students on setting up your garden. How to get a soil sample for analysis will be demonstrated.

Week #2 - Learn how to build a raised bed for an easy to access and attractive growing space. Learn to use trellises and inexpensive space saving techniques.

Lab Exercise - Analyze your soil sample in class for pH and basic nutrients, and the instructor will recommend pre-planting techniques to improve your garden soil.

Week #3 - Learn when and how to transplant seedlings into your garden. Learn how to plant bedding plants.

Lab Exercise - You will sow some seeds to grow at home for an early start on your garden.

Week #4 - Choose the specific plants you want to grow, determine how many plants you really need, and the design for your garden.

Lab Exercise - Learn how to transplant seedlings. Sketch your front yard garden design and determine how to maximize your growing space by grouping plants.

Week #5 - Maintain and harvest your front yard garden: watering, weeding, fertilizing and the unique challenges of growing a garden in an urban front yard. Learn what pests and other problems to watch out for and how to control them.

Lab Exercise - A guest speaker will discuss how to get your neighbors and local community interested and involved in front yard farming.

What Is the Lifelong Learners Program?
The Lifelong Learners Program is a Continuing Education program that brings City Colleges of Chicago classes to Department of Senior Services Regional Senior Centers. Courses consist of weekly class sessions that build on one another.

What Classes Are Offered?
Both non-credit and credit courses are available. Through non-credit courses, seniors will be able to explore interests such as dance and art appreciation and develop valuable skills in financial literacy and budget management. Through non-credit courses, such as Child Development and Foreign Languages, seniors are able to work towards basic certification in an area of interest. Credit courses are only available to those who have obtained a high school diploma or GED certificate. You may contact the Department on Aging for tutoring assistance if you are working on a GED certificate.

When And Where Are The Classes Offered?
Classes will be taught at Department of Senior Services Regional Senior Centers. The website includes dates, times and locations for each class.

How Much Do Classes Cost?
The classes are free and open to Chicagoans over 60 years of age.

Who Will Teach These Classes?
All classes, whether credit or non-credit, will be taught by City Colleges of Chicago lecturers. These teachers will provide both clear instruction and valuable feedback.

How Do Students Enroll For Courses?
Students may register for the courses at City of Chicago Regional Senior Centers. Class size is limited, so please register early for courses. Regular attendance is required.

Is There A Ceremony at the End of Classes?
Yes. Students who have successfully completed a course will be invited to attend a completion ceremony where they will be honored as graduates of the Lifelong Learners Program.

Taxi Training

The taxicab course is a two week comprehensive training program with day and evening courses offered. It is designed to prepare individuals to become public chauffeurs in the City of Chicago, and to take the licensing examination given by the Department of Business Affairs and Consumer Protection, Public Vehicle Division.

The course begins weekly on a Saturday with orientation and a bus tour, except during weeks there is a city, state or college holiday. The training includes geography, City of Chicago rules and regulations, safety, customer service, accessibility training and two four hour bus tours. Prior to taking the bus tours, we strongly advise new students to review the bus tour links below for information about the Downtown and South side bus tours.

Bus Tours:
Downtown Bus Tours: http://hwc.ccc.edu/pdfs/downtown-bus-tours.pdf (Adobe PDF)
IntraCity Bus Tours: http://hwc.ccc.edu/pdfs/intracity-bus-tours.pdf (Adobe PDF)

The fee is two hundred seventy-five dollars ($275.00).
Prerequisite: Students must meet language proficiency requirements before registering for the two-week taxi training course.

Attendance:
Students are expected to attend every session during the two week course period. Due to the structure of the program, we do not guarantee any class make-up sessions. Students will be asked to register for another two week session and will be expected to pay full tuition.
Important Notice: When maximum enrollment is met, the class IS closed. Students must register for the next available class.

Taxi Accessibility

This is a twelve-hour training session, over two (2) days for Industry professionals on how to transport persons with disabilities, and how to use the PACE-TAP voucher system to ensure payments. Using a replica of the actual van used in transporting persons with disabilities, students are given hands-on instruction in handling and securing wheelchairs.

The objectives of the course are to:
• learn how to properly assist individuals with various types of disabilities
• demonstrate their ability to navigate a passenger in a wheelchair up and down a curb or step
• learn how to strap a wheelchair into the accessibility van and restrain the passenger with a seat belt and shoulder harness

The fee is eighty-five dollars ($85.00).

Morning and afternoon classes are available beginning on Mondays, excluding holidays. Students must register in the PCTI office (Room 1041) for this course.
Important Notice: Individuals registering for the remedial training courses must bring a form letter from the Department of Business Affairs and Consumer Protection indicating the course(s) required.
Attitudinal Defensive Driving

The purpose of this eight hour workshop, over two (2) days is to:

- address the needs of those individuals who are repeat violators of traffic rules and regulations violations and,
- newly licensed chauffeurs who have driven in the United States for at least three years.

This training component is certified by the National Safety Council. Topics covered include, violated rules and regulations, cultural sensitivity, anger management and conflict resolution as well as behavior modification approach for effective customer service.

This course also reviews Illinois Rules of the Road Handbook and prepares the inexperienced chauffeur driver for the road. Students receive National Safety Council certificates of completion once they successfully complete the course. The class is held weekly.

The fee is eighty five dollars ($85.00).

Important Notice: Individuals registering for the remedial training courses must bring a form letter from the Department of Business Affairs and Consumer Protection, indicating the course(s) required.

Language Enhancement

Provided by the Public Chauffeur Training Institute (PCTI), this course is a 2-day language enhancement workshop designed to assist and increase the communication skills of students. Using a service excellence approach, students will review concepts and terminology commonly used in the taxi industry to increase customer service. Class size limit is 20 students. This class is offered weekly.

The fee is one hundred dollars ($100.00).

Important Notice: This is a two-day workshop designed for adults who do not successfully pass the Language Placement Exam at Harold Washington College. Students who do not pass this course after two (2) enrollments MUST enroll in an English as a Second Language (ESL) class offered by the College. The student’s placement will determine the ESL class placement. Upon successful completion of the ESL class, students will qualify for TAXI courses.

Limousine Training

This is an intensive one day training course that prepares individuals to become restricted public chauffeurs. Individuals taking this course are eligible to become licensed to drive a livery/limousine. This course is offered four times each month. It is intended to serve as a preparatory course to assist individuals with the successful completion of his restricted public chauffeur’s license exam.

Note: Those interested in driving a medical carrier must also complete this course.

The class informs students of current chauffeur rules and regulations; it also provides drivers with information on new cultural attractions, buildings, hospitals and hotels. At the end of the class, students who complete the course receive a certificate of completion making them eligible for the restricted public chauffeur’s license exam.

The fee is eighty five dollars ($85.00).

Medallion Holder/Owner Training

The purpose of this one-day medallion seminar is to inform medallion owners about their rights, the benefits, and the obligations of owning a medallion as per the City of Chicago Department of Business Affairs and Consumer Protection, rules and regulations. Emphasis is given to small business principles. The medallion holders seminar covers the city’s inspection process, insurance and tax requirements and other business strategies for owning a taxi in the City of Chicago. The course is held monthly.

The fee is seventy-five dollars ($75.00).
How to Work as a Chicago Tour Guide

This course is an introduction to working as a professional tour guide. The focus is on the skills needed to work as a “step-on” tour guide in the Chicago metro. The knowledge and skills developed in this course may well serve as a starting point for work in other cities and in other tourism roles.

Professional tour guides in the Chicago area have traditionally received their initial training as volunteer docents for various museums and non-profit associations. These training opportunities typically involved six- to twelve-month non-paid commitments. A smaller number of guides have attended multi-week training programs at for-profit tour guide schools. All of these options involve considerable up-front costs in both time and money.

This course is designed to offer a lower threshold entry point into the profession that might attract a more diverse workforce. Not only will this provide tour guiding employment to a wider range of Chicago residents, it may also promote a wider range of tours as most new tours are developed through the personal interest and expertise of the guides who lead them.

There are many roles a professional tour guide can fulfill: event greeters, tour guides, tour managers, tour operators. Step-on tour guides are hired to join an existing tour group and, typically, conduct a one- to four-hour tour, based on the requirements of the tour’s organizers. These tours may be focused on Chicago highlights, a particular theme, or a particular area of the city. As the name implies, step-on guides typically “step on” to a bus already loaded with tourists. The step-on guides, hired by the tour operator that organized the tour, conduct their portion of the tour following the requirements of the tour operator.

Focusing on the skills needed to work professionally as a step-on guide will expose students to the full range of skills required by almost anyone working in this field.

Human Services/Child Development Associate Training

The Harold Washington College Human Services/Child Development unit is funded by the Chicago Department of Family & Support Services (Children Services Division) to provide training and education for staff of Head Start and Child Care programs. Participants must be employed and referred by a program funded by the Chicago Department of Children and Youth Services.

Child Development Associate (CDA) Training
The Child Development Associate credential is a nationally recognized, competency-based, early childhood credential, granted to qualified candidates by the Council for Professional Recognition. Requirements include experience, education, and documentation of competency. The Human Services/CDA unit provides guidance, training, and education to referred candidates to meet all requirements of the Council. College credits earned in attaining the CDA credential apply to the Associate in Applied Science degree in Child Development.

Associate Degree in Child Development or Social Service:
The Human Services/CDA unit assists Head Start and Child Care teachers and Social Service Workers to complete the requirements for an Associate in Applied Science degree in Child Development or Social Service. The Human Services/CDA unit further assists Head Start and Child Care teachers and Social Service Workers to earn additional credits in general education required for transfer to four-year colleges or universities which offer the Bachelor’s degree in Child Development or Social Service.

Off-Campus Courses:
The Human Services/CDA unit coordinates and facilitates off-campus Child Development courses for community-based organizations throughout the City of Chicago.

Contact Information:
The Human Services/CDA unit can be contacted at (312) 553-5840. Office hours are 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. Evening and Saturday service is available during early and open registration.

Online classes start every month!

Since 1976, Harold Washington College has trained food service personnel for the State of Illinois and the City of Chicago. Every food establishment in Chicago and the State of Illinois must have a certified Food Service Sanitation Manager on the premise while food is being prepared and served. The Food Service Sanitation program at HWC provides this certification and recertification for personnel in food service establishments.

HWC also offers a three hour seminar for Food Service Sanitation personnel preparing and serving food at outdoor festivals. This certificate is renewed annually. The certification, recertification, and Summerfest programs enroll 2,200 students each year. To better serve Illinois’ diverse population, all classes are taught in English, Spanish, Chinese (Mandarin and Cantonese), or Korean.
