Finding Books

Use the Wright College Library catalog to search for books on the library's shelves.

- Once on the library page click the Find Books link under Start your research.

- The library catalog will open. Enter your Keywords in the search box provided.

What is a keyword?

A keyword is a term or phrase related to the topic you are researching.
To develop keywords, think of the core ideas of your topic.

Suggested Keywords
radiology	Radiation Protection Methods	Technology, Radiologic
Technology Radiologic Examination Questions	Diagnosis Radioscopic Quality Control	Diagnosis Radioscopic Examinations Questions
Radiology Medical	Radiology Medical Safety Measures	Radiology Standards United States

- You can also do searches using the title, author, subject, call #, or ISBN/ISSN. You will see these tabs above the search box.

The screenshot shows a library search interface. A yellow arrow points to a row of search tabs: Keyword, Title, Author, Subject, Call #, and ISBN/ISSN. Below the tabs is a search box with the instruction: "Type the keyword(s) in the box below then press Enter or click the Submit button." There is a "Submit" button and a "System Sorted" dropdown menu. To the right, a box titled "Other Searches:" lists "Advanced Search", "Author and Title Search", and "Course reserves". Below the search box, it says "Limit to netLibrary eBooks" and "Type the keywords you want to find. For example:" followed by "anorexia or bulimia" and "Indian cooking".

Finding Books Using the LC Call Number (Library Congress Call Number)

- When you find a book you would like to read in the library catalog locate the call number.

1 Book Cart	Ethical and legal issues for imaging professionals Towsley-Cook, Doreen M. St. Louis, Mo. : Mosby, c1999.	c1999
Location	Call No.	Status
Wilbur Wright Stacks	[STACKS] KF2910.R33 T69 1999 C.2	AVAILABLE
Wilbur Wright Stacks	[Stacks] KF2910.R33 T69 1999	AVAILABLE

- A call number is an address for a book or other material. In LC classification, numbers before the decimal point are read in ordinary numerical sequence, but after the decimal point, they are read decimally and not as whole numbers. The following represents how these books are arranged on the shelf:

KF 13 .H3	KF 103 .H3	KF 411 .P262	KF 2910 .R33 T69 1999 c.2
-----------------	------------------	--------------------	--

Finding Articles

- Click the Find Articles under Start your research on the library homepage.

- A new page will load. Scroll down until you see Find Articles which contains a list of the library's databases.

MLA Citations

These are examples of how to format books and articles in MLA format. These citations are included in your Works Cited page.

One-author book format

Lastname, Firstname. Title of Book. City of Publication: Publisher, Year of Publication. Medium of Publication.

Example

Ebershoff, David. The 19th Wife. New York: The Random House Publishing Group, 2008. Print.

Book with More Than One Author

The first given name appears in last name, first name format; subsequent author names appear in first name last name format.

Lastname, Firstname, and Firstname Lastname. Title of Book. City of Publication: Publisher, Year of Publication. Medium of Publication.

Example

Gillespie, Paula, and Neal Lerner. The Allyn and Bacon Guide to Peer Tutoring. Boston: Allyn, 2000. Print.

If there are more than three authors, you may choose to list only the first author followed by the phrase et al. (Latin for "and others") in place of the subsequent authors' names, or you may list all the authors in the order in which their names appear on the title page. (Note that there is a period after "al" in "et al." Also note that there is never a period after the "et" in "et al.").

Wysocki, Anne Frances, et al. Writing New Media: Theory and Applications for Expanding the Teaching of Composition. Logan: Utah State UP, 2004. Print.

Wysocki, Anne Frances, Johndan Johnson-Eilola, Cynthia L. Selfe, and Geoffrey Sirc. Writing New Media: Theory and Applications for Expanding the Teaching of Composition. Logan: Utah State UP, 2004. Print.

Article in a Reference Book (e.g. Encyclopedias, Dictionaries)

For entries in encyclopedias, dictionaries, and other reference works, cite the piece as you would any other work in a collection but do not include the publisher information. Also, if the reference book is organized alphabetically, as most are, do not list the volume or the page number of the article or item.

"Ideology." The American Heritage Dictionary. 3rd ed. 1997. Print.

A Page on a Web Site

For an individual page on a Web site, list the author or alias if known, followed by the information covered above for entire Web sites. Remember to use n.p. if no publisher name is available and n.d. if no publishing date is given.

"How to Make Vegetarian Chili." eHow. Demand Media, Inc., n.d. Web. 24 Feb. 2009

An Article from an Online Database (or Other Electronic Subscription Service)

Cite articles from online databases (e.g. Medline with Full-Text, CINAHL Plus with Full-Text, and EBSCO Academic Premier and Complete) and other subscription services just as you would print sources. Since these articles usually come from periodicals, be sure to consult the appropriate sections of the Works Cited: Periodicals page, which you can access via its link at the bottom of this page. In addition to this information, provide the title of the database italicized, the medium of publication, and the date of access.

Note: Previous editions of the MLA Style Manual required information about the subscribing institution (name and location). This information is no longer required by MLA.

Junge, Wolfgang, and Nathan Nelson. "Nature's Rotary Electromotors." Science 29 Apr. 2005: 642-44. Science Online. Web. 5 Mar. 2009.
